Avon's insulated rolling garage door combines the ease of powered operation with the advantage of vertical opening action so no space is lost inside or outside the garage while the door travels up & down. Additionally, unlike the traditional up & over doors the Avon door coils up into a neat roll at the head of the doorway, freeing up room in the roof of the garage. Double wall aluminium construction provides excellent strength, the polyurethane foam core and brush edge seals reduce heat loss as well as reducing noise. These rolling doors come as standard with "Auto Locking" that operates when the door is fully closed, there are no handles on the outside that can be tampered with or that provide a leverage point for would be intruders.

It is our belief that your garage door should be manufactured to the highest specification and to this end we include powerful Somfy motors that run at up to 50% faster than other motors, opening or closing a 7'0" (2.1mtr) door in under 14 seconds, Rollixo controls with a diagnostic display, 2 handsets each capable of operating up to 4 doors, a wireless optical safe edge to stop the door & reverse should it meet an obstruction when closing, an LED courtesy light, internal push button control, emergency manual winding handle, and an anti-fall back safety brake. Also included is a 97-decibel alarm that sounds should someone try to force entry by lifting the door, this is all backed by a 5-year Warranty.

There is a choice of colour, 24 long life colour finishes including some Wood Grain effects but as standard doors are supplied in white. Avon's insulated doors are all made to measure here in Yate, can span up to 5.5 mtr wide by 3.0 mtr high.
