Avon's sectional overhead doors are designed and constructed using the best quality component parts available, providing you with a strong, reliable and safe garage door.

The door panels are twinned skinned Polyester coated steel a full 40 mm thick, filled with high density insulation creating a very stiff, durable panel that is pleasing to eye and a good insulator. An ideal choice for integral garages, we comfortably span sizes up to 6000 mm wide by 3000 mm high using standard parts, larger width openings can be catered for by exception.

We supply all our doors as standard with Somfy electric door operators incorporating quiet belt drive rails, courtesy light, integral battery backup, manual override and supplied with 2 no. four channel handsets, enabling you to operate multiple doors from a single handset (fob). The operators have a soft start soft stop feature and integral force limitation ensuring a smooth quiet and safe operating door.

These Overhead doors are offered in a range of standard styles & colours and are fully CE marked in compliance with current EU regulations.

We install all our own doors so you can be assured of a first-class installation with fully trained, qualified door engineers and a comprehensive spares & back up service from our workshop in Yate
